

Ryan Bast

My name is Ryan Bast and I am the Executive Director at the Motor Safety Association.

I grew up on a farm near Montmartre and first entered the industry 25 years ago in March of 1997. I was employed at a farm equipment dealership and started my career cleaning & setting up farm equipment and picking parts.

I enjoyed my time in the parts dept. and pursued my Journeyman Certificate in the trade. While employed at the farm equipment dealership I was actively involved in setting up our Occupational Health & Safety Committee and a safety program.

I then enrolled in Saskatchewan's very first Occupational Health and Safety Practitioner Certificate program in 2004 offered by SIAST.

I soon learned about the C6 Safety Association and joined their board in 2005. At this time, we rebranded from C6 Safety Association to the Motor Safety Association.

In 2011, I was fortunate that the Motor Safety Association offered me a position on the team as a Safety Advisor. I was humbled to have received this opportunity at the Motor Safety Association and to rejoin the industry in a new capacity.

Outside of work, I am married and have three kids, serve as a school board trustee in Regina and enjoy collecting antique tractors and farm equipment.

I would like to acknowledge our past staff and board members and thank the Motor Safety Association for being an awesome place to work. Congratulations on 25 years of Driving Safety Culture in this industry.
